Baptists Dedicate New Church At Sunday Rites

A dream was realized and Salem's spiritual bulwark was strengthened when the new $170,000 First Baptist Church on residential E. State st. was dedicated Sunday. This edifice is one of the largest of 13 places of worship in the city.

As if rejoicing with this congregation in its attainment, nature provided a perfect spring morning for the dedication service.

Hundreds of people from Salem and nearby towns attended the Palm Sunday activities, which marked the opening of Dedication week.

Rev. R. J. Hunter, pastor, officiated at the "rite of dedication" which concluded with these words:

"We, now, the people of this church and congregation, compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, do consecrate ourselves anew to the worship of God in this place, and do dedicate this building in the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit."

Rev. Hunter expressed appreciation for the many beautiful floral arrangements which were given by members of the church and friends. They were combined with palms and white candles in tall seven-branch candelabra in the decorations.

Dr. Paul Judson Morris of Granville preached the dedication sermon. Using for his subject, "To Know Jesus Christ," the executive secretary of the Ohio Baptist Convention, declared "that to know Jesus Christ, is the supreme achievement of any life and should be the dominant purpose of every life."

"The Apostle Paul limited himself not merely to the knowledge of Jesus Christ, but to one incident in his life to know Jesus Christ and Him crucified," Dr. Morris said.

Robert Barton, minister of music, directed the singing and the anthem by the choir, entitled, "Before The Cross." Mrs. George Talbot was soloist. A quartet, Mrs. Talbot, Mrs. Gail Hutchinson, Merle Miller and Thomas Hutson, sang "Beside Still Waters." Mrs. Robert Hammell, organist, was the accompanist for the service.

This edifice replaces the old Baptist Church on downtown E. State st., and S. Lincoln ave., which was partially destroyed by fire in the early morning of April 5, 1947. In his congratulatory remarks Dr. Morris stated that all things work together for good. "If it had not been for that fire we would not be dedicating this beautiful house of worship this morning," he said.

Mrs. L. D. Sanborn of Wooster, a former organist for this church, presented an organ recital Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Fred Sweitzer, Jr., sang "Open The Gates of The Temple," with Homer S. Taylor at the organ. Miss Martha Jayne Stirling, who was scheduled to turn to BAPTISTS, Page 9

WASHINGTON, April 3—(AP)—

Congressional Republicans have announced in 99 words the "platform" on which they are running in the November elections. Here's how it goes:

- (2) Balancing budget.
- (3) Eliminating government waste, especially along lines of Hoover Commission reports.
- (4) Fighting communism here instead of condoning it.
- (5) Providing fair market prices on farm products aided by price supports—cooperative marketing, soil conservation, reclamation, rural electrification—no Brannan plan.
- (6) Continuing and improving Taft-Hartley law to protect public from excessive power of labor and management.
- (7) Developing an adequate Social Security system that does not limit opportunity nor discourage initiative and saving.
- (8) Protecting rights of veterans and minorities.
- (9) Developing a united American foreign policy for peace—world trade without undermining American living standards.

Missing Convict Linked With Foreign Sub

Mysterious Sub Seen Off California May Have Picked Him Up

AVAILON, CALIF. April 3—(AP)—A man identified from a photograph as one convicted of wartime treason, vanishes from a small boat at sea.

A few hours later, a mysterious submarine is sighted off the Southern California coast.

And the convict, tall, scarred Theodore Donay, 51, Detroit, is reported missing from his home since Wednesday.

These coincidences were pieced together today by authorities investigating the disappearance of a man who rented a boat here Saturday and never returned.

Constable K. McDavid said Ray Dodge, boat rental dock attendant, had identified an Associated Press wirephoto of Donay as his mysterious patron. A wallet left as security for the rented vessel contained a driver's license issued to Donay, McDavid said.

Several hours after the man was due to return with the boat, a search was begun in waters surrounding this island 20 miles off the Los Angeles harbor. McDavid said the boat had its running lights on but the ignition was off when found eight miles northeast of Avalon. The boat contained only a clothing-filled suitcase, he said.

The drifting vessel was found some 125 miles south of Point Arguello, where Coast Guardsmen reported seeing a surfaced submarine at 6:20 a. m. yesterday. The Navy said no American submarines were in the area at the time.

McDavid said officers had noted the coincidence of the two events, but there was "no concrete evidence" they were connected in any way.

McDavid said a torn half of a printed form found in the man's hotel room here contained the following words:

"Delivery over the counter in Berlin or by parcel post in Berlin to the Russian zone from stock in Berlin by parcel post from New York:

"No. 265, lard in tins, sugar, rice, roasted coffee, cocoa, whole milk powder, $5.60 lbs."

In Detroit, Donay's brother Felix told newsmen he had not seen Theodore since last Wednesday. Donay, he said, left to go to Caro, Mich., to see his former wife and son.

Lisbon Man Freed Of Gambling Charge

LISBON, April 3—Richard Wenderoth of Lisbon, who holds the lease on the building adjoining the Brookside Park Cafe, 10 miles north of here on Route 7, was found not guilty of exhibiting gambling devices when tried before Justice of the Peace Felix Butch here Friday afternoon.

Sheriff Howard Clark and state liquor agents raided the building Thursday morning and found 12 punchboards. A charge filed against Bartender Nelson Page of the cafe was dropped when it was discovered he did not have jurisdiction over the building.

The charge was then preferred against Wenderoth, who was found innocent on the grounds that the gambling devices were not being displayed but were packed for shipment.

16 Census Takers Are Busy Here

House-To-House Canvass Is Begun

That knock on your door tomorrow or any day this month is very likely to be the census enumerator. He or she will want to know a few things about you and your family. The enumerator is actually taking three censuses at once—covering population, housing and agriculture.

He'll present his credentials, in the form of a card, introducing him as an enumerator for the 17th Decennial Census. He will write down information on a Census of Population form.

He will have nothing to sell and will ask only questions which appear on the census form. He is not permitted to conduct any business other than the collection of census information. He cannot combine his census work with soliciting money, house-to-house selling, advertising distribution or door-to-door selling.

There will be 16 enumerators in Salem. They were selected from over two-score applicants who took an examination March 20. They attended a school last week, "graduating" Friday. They work under Mrs. Anna Stacey of Columbiana and D. K. Crawford of Leetonia.

The Salem enumerators are: Alfred Houts, Martha Ellis, Mary Ritchie, Mary Ross, Dora Tinsley, Lynna Astory, Esther Lantz, Virginia Bair, Evelyn Becker, Jean Horning, Ann Lavelle, Esther Knave, Odessa Reardon, Margie Corrigan, Merrill Bates, and Harold Scullion.

In other northern Columbiana county communities, the enumerators are:

Columbiana—Viola L. Eberhardt, Doris Dowd, Alma Wining, Eva Werner and Lena G. Yarian. R. D., Columbiana—Mildred Bell, John C. Moff.

East Palestine—Edna Hirt, Blanche Gibb, Loma Doran, Mary Yeager and Verda Kooztz.

Gorman, President Of Transue-Williams, Dies

ALLIANCE, April 3—Joseph R. Gorman, 70, president of the Transue & Williams Steel Forging Corp., died at his home here today. He had been ill one week.

Mr. Gorman has been connected with the local forging company since 1927 when he came here from Baltimore, Md. In addition to his connection with the steel company, Mr. Gorman was a director of the Alliance First National Bank. He was a member of the St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Hazel R. Gorman, and one son, Joseph R. Gorman, Jr., an attorney in Washington, D. C. Three brothers and a sister also survive.

Extra Morgue Body Turns Out To Be Stiff

DAYTON, April 3—(AP)—Guy Magetti, a funeral home operator, called police last night to report there was a "dead man" he knew nothing about in his morgue.

When the officers arrived, they opened up a rubber bag used by morticians. Aaron E. Tally, 40, of Dayton, clad in underwear, sat up, blinked his eyes, and asked: "Where am I?"

Police booked him on an intoxication charge.

Nationalists Score Victory

Smash Reds In Huge Attempt On Hainan

TAIPEI, Formosa, April 3—(AP)—Nationalist China today hailed its greatest victory of 1950... the smashing Saturday of a Chinese Communist invading force of more than 7,500 on Hainan Island off South China.

Thousands joined a massive parade at Hoihow, capital of Hainan. Tons of firecrackers were set off. Red prisoners were marched through the streets.

"We have destroyed the Communist dream of conquering Hainan," said Gen. Li Yang-Ching, chief of staff for Hainan. The Nationalists said 5,000 Reds were killed and more than 2,500 were captured.

It was the second Red attempt in six days to land a force on the big island, separated by 10 miles of water from Luichow peninsula. The Nationalists said they "completely annihilated" 4,000 Red invaders March 27.

Some Red survivors tried to escape Sunday but Nationalist warships reported they sank the fleeing junks. Five hundred more Reds surrendered on Hainan.

The Nationalists said much equipment including field pieces, Tommy guns and rifles were seized.

3,000 Miners Idle, More Layoffs Seen

NEW YORK, April 3—(AP)—The New York Times said today almost 3,000 miners in Pennsylvania have been made idle through the closing of high-cost coal mines in the four weeks since the industry signed its new wage agreement with the United Mine Workers.

Leading operators predicted the number of soft coal miners idle would reach 50,000, or one-eighth of the national total of 400,000, by mid-summer under the combined pressure of price resistance and higher labor costs.

Sharp inroads of fuel oil into the market for coal along the Eastern seaboard have resulted in large consumers in metropolitan New York receiving offers of coal at prices 15 to 35 cents a ton below prices in effect before the wage agreement.

2 Persons Hurt In Car Mishaps

Marshal Is Injured While Chasing Driver

Robert C. Bertollette, 43, Washingtonville marshal, received minor injuries in an accident at 12:48 p. m. Saturday on Route 46, just north of Columbiana.

The marshal was pursuing a traffic violator, Paul P. Lechner, Jr. 28, of Maple Heights. Both cars were headed north when Lechner lost control of his speeding car and crashed into a power pole at the side of the road.

The pole was sheared off and a section of the pole flew at Bertollette's car. The marshal attempted to avoid the pole by driving into a roadside ditch. His car rolled over several times, according to the State Highway Patrol. Bertollette received bruises of the knees and lacerations of the body. Lechner received a sprained back. Both cars were heavily damaged.

Lechner was arrested for reckless driving and was fined $25 and costs by Washingtonville's Mayor Lloyd Culler.

Woman Driver Hurt

At 4:55 p. m. Sunday on Route 45, just north of Ellsworth, Mary E. Payne, 31, of Painesville received body bruises in an accident when her car was struck by a car she was towing.

State patrolmen said the towed car, driven by Daniel C. Waldron, 29, of Jefferson, became entangled in the tow chain and rammed the rear of the Payne car.

Motorist Hits Car

No one was injured in an accident at 9:40 p. m. Sunday on Route 224 near Canfield when the car driven by Jay R. Hilbig, 35, of Struthers crashed into the stalled car of Fergus C. Lloyd, 24, of Windham.

The right side and front of the Hilbig car and the left rear end of the Lloyd car were damaged. Lloyd told patrolmen he had stopped because of motor trouble.

Clayworker Strike Hits County Plants

UHRICHSVILLE, April 3—(AP)—A strike of 3,500 AFL workers halted operations in 27 clay sewer pipe plants today.

Most of the plants are located in eastern Ohio in Tuscarawas, Jefferson and Columbiana counties. Cities and towns affected include East Liverpool, Lisbon, Barberton, Mogadore, Port Homer, Empire, Stratton, Diamond and Midvale.

Eighty workers were reported out on strike at the American Vitrified Products Co. in Lisbon. Since operations have been stopped at the plant, no picketing has resulted.

The United Brick and Clay Workers Union called the strike Saturday midnight after negotiations in Akron on a new contract collapsed.

The workers—now making an average of $1.16 hourly—want a 15-cent hourly pay boost. The company has offered five cents of five per cent piece-work rate increases.

Inquirers Seek Peek At Papers On Lattimore

Discuss Means Of Prying Documents Away From McCarthy

WASHINGTON, April 3—(AP)—Senate investigators sought today to get a look at Senator McCarthy's secret documents dealing with his "spy for Russia" charges against Owen Lattimore—charges hotly denied by Lattimore.

A Senate foreign relations subcommittee arranged a behind-closed-doors meeting to discuss getting access to the data which McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, has indicated he is not willing to give the group.

In advance of the session, Senator Green (D-R.I.), acting chairman of the inquiry committee, talked again of issuing a subpoena if McCarthy refuses to take the investigators into his confidence after a formal request for the material.

The committee has subpoenas out now trying to force the FBI and other government agencies to let it see confidential loyalty files. An ironic twist of the investigation: McCarthy gave his information to the FBI and withheld it from the committee, but has insisted the committee see the FBI files, which presumably would include his papers.

McCarthy, meanwhile, made ready to speak out once more—this time from the naval medical center in nearby Bethesda, Md., where he is being treated for a sinus condition. McCarthy called a news conference at the hospital. His office—without elaborating—said it would be quite important.

McCarthy has charged that Lattimore, an American expert on Far Eastern affairs, is Russia's top spy in the State Department and the United States. In a Senate speech last Thursday McCarthy said he could produce proof to back up his contentions.

McCarthy told his colleagues he has lined up mystery witnesses who would testify that Lattimore is a Soviet agent and that he is now or was once a member of the Communist party.

The Senator then turned his material on Lattimore over to the FBI. The Senate committee investigating McCarthy's charges of communism in the State Department wants the same information.

Faulty Engine Halts Flying Bixbys

TOKYO, April 3—(AP)—The Army said engine trouble forced the flying Bixbys—Dianna and Bob—to return to Calcutta today, two hours after they took off in their attempt to break the late Bill Odom's world circling record.

The Army said trouble in the right engine of the Bixby's twin-engine British Mosquito bomber had cut short their scheduled flight across Red China to Tokyo. They landed at Calcutta at 9:31 a. m., GMT.

They still had a chance to beat Odom's 1947 mark of 73 hours, five minutes and 11 seconds—if they could get the engine repaired and leave within three or four hours.

The Bixbys had been shooting at a 66 hour round-the-world flight. Their return here put them four hours behind schedule. The husband-and-wife team left San Francisco at 9:03 a. m. Saturday.

There were no reports reaching Tokyo beyond the brief word that they had turned back and landed at Calcutta.

The Bixbys first reached Calcutta, past the halfway mark in their flight, at 6:11 a. m., GMT. They refueled the Huntress II and took off after slightly more than one hour, at 7:24 a. m., GMT.

But just one hour out they were forced to turn back.

Mr. Easter Bunny's Stock Hit By Blaze

PITTSBURGH, April 3—(AP)—Seven thousand one-pound chocolate Easter eggs went up in smoke last night.

Confectioner Gus Paris could hardly move in the crowded kitchen at the rear of his store as he finished making a batch of the eggs.

He looked proudly at his work and started to prepare some sugar filling for more eggs.

A kettle slipped. The sugar caught fire. Eggs started to blaze. Paris was burned slightly trying to extinguish the flames before the fire department arrived.

Fire Chief William H. Davis estimated the loss at $4,000.

Subpoena Order Stands, Truman

Won't Allow Trio To Surrender Files

KEY WEST, Fla., April 3—(AP)—President Truman today formally notified Senator Tydings (R-Md.) he has ordered federal officials to ignore subpoenas asking them to surrender loyalty files of accused State Department employees.

"No President has ever complied with an order of the legislative branch directing the executive branch to produce confidential documents, the disclosure of which was considered by the President to be contrary to the public interest," Mr. Truman wrote Tydings.

Tydings is chairman of a Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee investigating charges by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) that the State Department is overrun with Communists and Communist sympathizers.

The President first refused a request from Tydings for the loyalty files. Tydings countered by serving subpoenas on Secretary of State Acheson, Attorney General McGrath and Chairman Harry B. Mitchell of the Civil Service Commission calling for the files.

Mr. Truman said today he had directed the three "not to comply with the subpoenas."

"The disclosure of these files would seriously prejudice the future effectiveness and usefulness of the Federal Bureau of Investigation as an investigative agency; danger, to those who have given confidential information cannot be over-emphasized," he said.

"Disclosure would not only deprive the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other investigative agencies of the government of the availability of those confidential informants in the future, but would also gravely impair their ability to gather confidential information from other sources as well."

Disclosure of the files, Mr. Truman contended, would not keep disloyal people out of government, but "impair the very effective means we now have for accomplishing that purpose."

Mr. Truman said presidents who have faced the same issue "have uniformly respected such encroachments on the constitutional power of the President," and cited Washington, Monroe, Jackson and Cleveland.

He quoted William Howard Taft, father of Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee, as having, in his book, "The Chief Magistrate," affirmed "his faith on the constitutional power of the President on this issue."

Mr. Truman contended, "would be derelict in my duty" if he failed to reject the attempt to subpoena the files.

6 Cases To Go Before Grand Jury Tuesday

LISBON, April 3—Six cases will go before the county grand jury when it convenes here Tuesday.

Other matters also will be under discussion, including the case of W. E. Roberts, former county superintendent of schools. No charge has been filed in the Roberts case.

TRUCK PARTS STOLEN

The theft of a $100 truck tire and rim from a loaded steel truck between 9 p. m. Saturday and 4 p. m. Sunday was reported today by police. The truck was parked in the side yard at the Buckeye Motor Co. at 339 S. Broadway.

Sends Message To Congress Urging Passage

Explains Why He Signed New Law Last Week

WASHINGTON, April 3—(AP)—President Truman asked Congress anew today to enact the Brannan plan with its dual goal of cheaper prices for perishable crops and direct government payment to farmers.

In an 1800-word message to the lawmakers Mr. Truman urged them to avoid "makeshift legislation" and get busy on fundamental improvements in a farm program he said would assure fair prices to both farmers and consumers.

The message also gave specific reasons why the President last week signed a new cotton-peanut law in which he saw objectionable features. He said he accepted it only because good features seemed to outweigh the bad.

"I urge the Congress," he wrote today, "to proceed to consider fundamental improvements in our agricultural legislation to make it more efficient, less costly, and more conducive to abundant production of farm crops, yielding a fair return to farmers, and selling at prices consumers can afford."

Mr. Truman outlined two definite proposals:

1. Revision of permanent laws relating to cotton acreage allotments and marketing quotas, to provide for allotments "based primarily upon each farmer's past planting history."

In addition, he said, such legislation should give ample leeway to local committees elected by farmers so they may "alleviate inequities among their neighbors and make adjustments for local conditions."

2. A production payment system for potatoes and other perishable commodities so that "unavoidable surpluses can be sold to consumers and used, instead of taken off the market and largely wasted."

Production payments are a key feature of Secretary of Agriculture Brannan's farm program—a program which Congress has shown little inclination to accept. Under that plan the products themselves would sell for whatever they would bring on the market, instead of the present system under which prices are bolstered by government buying. Such buying of potatoes has built up a headache-producing surplus stock.

Gene Tunney To Speak Here April 18

An outstanding speaker, in the person of Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion of the world, will appear at the annual Salem Chamber of Commerce dinner in the Masonic Temple at 6:30 p. m. April 18, it was announced today.

Obtained through special arrangements, Tunney will give a talk and show films of some of his great fights, including the famous "long count" bout with Jack Dempsey. His appearance is arranged by the Chamber and by the Economic & Business Foundation of New Wilmington, Pa., which has several Salem executives among its membership.

Tickets for the dinner are on sale with the Chamber and reservations must be made by April 10. President Alroy Bloomberg said. The tickets will go to Chamber members first, but the public is also invited as far as space permits.

Tunney is presently serving on the board of directors of several corporations in which he has interests. Among them is the Denman Rubber Manufacturing Co., of Warren. He will fly to Salem from New York the day of the dinner.

THEATER PICTURES STOLEN

Nine locks on the picture cases in front of the State and Grand theaters have been broken and pictures stolen during the past week. Chief of Police Nerr Gaunt warned today that anyone found tampering with the cases will be fully prosecuted. He believes the mischief has been done by boys.

Building Activity

New Zoning Control Ordinance Used For First Time In City

A law passed by City Council in September, 1949 was used for the first time recently when Mr. and Mrs. Donald Shoop secured a building permit for their new home and photographic studio which will be built this spring at 1858 E. State st.

The ordinance was enacted for zoning control and requires persons building a structure for business purposes in a residential zone to secure the written permission from two-thirds of the lot owners within 250 feet of the proposed building. Shoop secured 100 per cent of the owners' signatures.

Basically a home, the building will contain a living room, dining nook, kitchen, bath and two bedrooms. The studio section in the front will be the camera room, reception, dressing and photo finishing rooms. The dark room in the basement will be unique in that all equipment and fixtures will be stainless steel.

It will be a red textile brick one-floor house with the basement under part of the home. Concrete block will be used for the cellar and house base. It will contain oil heating and air conditioning units and laundry facilities. The electrical system will be adapted for the home-studio with "line voltage control" especially valuable in color, as well as black and white photography.

The front of the house will feature hued stained vertical siding at the four gable sections. Foam glass insulation will be used for insulation in the home for the first-known local installation.

The inside walls will be smooth plaster painted in bold colors. All windows will be of the large casement type. Asphalt base tile block and cork block will be used for flooring throughout the house, eliminating all wood and rugs.

At the extremes the house is 56 feet deep and 43 feet wide. The compact utility of the kitchen is one of the prime features to Mrs. Shoop. No finalized contracts for the building have been made. The house was designed by William Shoop, architect. Estimated cost of the building has been set at $15,000.

The surrounding lot will be landscaped this summer and a garage built at the rear of the lot. There will be a flagstone patio around the rear and part of the side of the house. The Shoops hope to move into the new home this fall.

5 Homes To Be Built

Specifications and blueprints are now ready for a group of five new homes to be built by Fred Ruffer in the new allotment in northeast Salem. They will be constructed on E. Eleventh st. which will soon be cut in by C. W. Beck.

The homes will be story-and-a-half frame houses containing five rooms and bath. The full basement will be dug and will contain gravity gas heating units.

Concrete block will be used for basement walls. Lap siding over insulating board has been chosen for the exterior walls. Tinted brush-finish plaster has been selected for interior walls.

Individual roof designs will create differences in the appearance of the five homes which will be spread along the south side of the street from N. Lincoln ave. to N. Union ave.

Mr. Ruffer said the homes will sell for approximately $10,000. Work on these structures will begin this month.

Three other Salem contractors who will build from three to five homes this spring and summer are Sam Roe, Jr., Joe Pasco and Harvey Bates.

Former Area Man Refused Passage From Red China

KENSINGTON, April 3—Lorin G. Reeder, a former resident here and now living in Shanghai, China, was among the 1,600 Americans and other westerners who were refused passage to return to their countries on the ship, General Gordon, by Communist authorities.

Mr. Reeder, a technician and photographer at the State Department's Information Service offices in Shanghai, has been in charge of all printing and photographic processing there since 1945.

He has supervised the production of Information Service posters, photo and printing programs and the operation and maintenance of photolaboratory equipment. He also is official photographer for both the U.S. embassy and Information Service there.

Sent to China by the Office of War Information in June, 1945, Mr. Reeder was put in charge of operation of the printing presses and multilith and plate-making equipment essential to the production of lithograph posters used extensively there to picture American life.

Mrs. Shearon Green of here, daughter of Mr. Reeder, has not received any word from her father since the Communists' last minute refusal to allow the group to board the ship.

Prior to 1945, he was employed in Liberia, Africa, by the Pan American Airways.

Ten Jap Industrialists Inspect Plants Here

A group of 10 Japanese industrial leaders left Saturday after inspecting the E. W. Bliss Co. plant and the Salem Engineering Co.

The party, accompanied by two United States government escorts, Ed Hill and Philip Simon, were flown to Cincinnati by Sam Keener, president of Salem Engineering. After touring plants there, the Japs are to go to Chicago and San Francisco before returning home.

Among the visitors here were two Nippon Steel directors whose acquaintance Mr. Keener made during his recent around-the-world business flight. They are Eitaro Tomiyama and Kunio Tanaka.

Homes For Americans

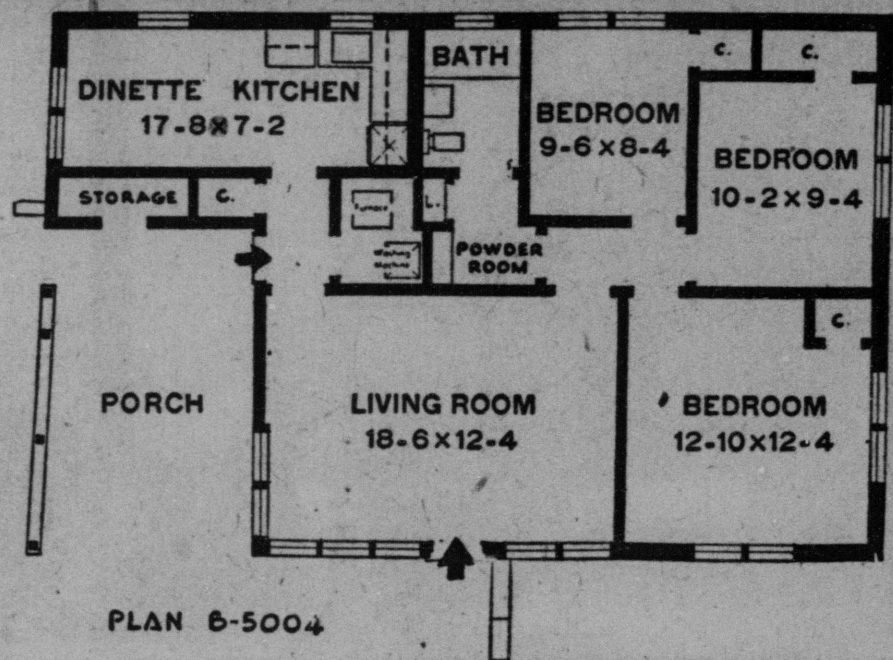

WESTERN influence distinguishes this all masonry house with low roof lines, and a combination carport porch. A utility room adjacent to the side door accommodates laundry and heating equipment.

It covers an area of 1,202 square feet including porch and the house has a content of 14,330 cubic feet with no basement. A built-in vanity converts the bathroom vestibule into a powder room. The driveway doubles as a walk and a wide overhang shelters front door.

Tripod Television Aerial Made Here By Reliable Welding Shop

A safer, more efficient television tower has been developed in Salem. The Reliable Welding Shop on the Benton road has been producing a limited number of towers which resemble a giant tripod. An application for a patent on this tower has been accepted in Washington.

Donald Getz, who operates the shop, said he engineered the tower when he became alarmed over the danger of some television towers. He said this tower can be placed away from the house thus eliminating much of the lighting and fire danger of the high towers.

No unsightly guide-wires are needed to steady the tower as the welded steel tube tower is anchored in three small concrete tiers.

The tripod itself rises 31 feet. Further extension is provided as a single steel tube, telescopes through the apex and can be extended to any desired height.

Spreaders are attached to the extension and guide wires attached to the tripod steady the extension. The tubes are thoroughly welded, not tacked, and the lattice-work braces are solid steel.

The commercial antenna is mounted at the top of the extension. Other advantages of this tower, Getz said, are: It can be moved to another location; it provides easy servicing of the antenna; and it can stand extreme winds.

STUEBENVILLE, April 3—(AP)—A 300-foot section of land slid more than 70 feet here yesterday, uprooting trees and endangering four houses.

The earth broke loose from a 250-foot ridge, mowed down four trees and advanced to within 400 feet of the newest of the homes.

It continued to move slowly, but County Engineer Martin Smith said he believed a plateau would soon halt its progress. Winter rains were believed to have caused the section to shift.

If you're not afraid of being overburdened you'll find it a lot easier to deliver the goods.

Work Is Begun On United Local School

Foundation excavation gets underway near New Garden

FOOTERS have been poured and the exterior walls to the first floor are half done as construction men push the building program for the new United Local School District building, 1½ miles south of New Garden on Route 9 at the old Palmer farm.

The building will contain 15 classrooms, two administration rooms, kitchen and a multi-purpose room on the first floor. The multi-purpose room will be used for a cafeteria, meeting room and auditorium. The school will have one floor and a basement.

In the basement will be the boiler room with coal-fired boiler steam unit which utilizes a forced air conditioning system. The coal storage room, equipment storage and janitor supplies room also are situated in the basement.

EXTERIOR WALLS to first floor and interior walls will be cinder block. Starting at the ground floor and extending 3½ feet will be red terra-cotta brick. The next three feet of exterior wall in all classrooms will be transparent glass, and the remaining five feet to the ceiling will be light-directional prism type glass block.

The room ceilings will be acoustical plaster throughout the building. All flooring will be asphalt tile over a concrete base.

The fireproof building design has a welded steel frame with no masonry load-bearing walls above the first floor level. The roof is supported by a steel frame and is composed of poured gypsum covered by the composition tar and slag exterior. A good producing well is located on the school grounds.

The building, which is expected to be completed by the end of the year, will accommodate between 450 and 500 elementary pupils from this area. The school board stresses the fact that this is the first phase of the school building program and additional rooms for the High School can be erected at the north side of the structure.

The bond issue for this school was passed by voters in 1945. Cost of the school has been estimated at $225,000.

ATTENDING this school will be the present pupils of the two one-room schools at Highland, two schools at Winona, Fairview School, New Garden School and possibly Hanoverton school children.

The Kensington and Chandler buildings will be maintained. This school district is the second largest in area in the state.

The Riley Construction Co. holds the general contract. William Rance will do the electrical work and the Sebring Hardware will install the plumbing and heating. Kling and Frost of Youngstown are the architects.

On the board in charge of this school district are: President, F. H. Hall of Winona; vice president, Dan Furey of Hanoverton; Elmer Stamp of Winona, John J. Batzli of New Garden and Richard Spiedel of Hanoverton.

You Can't Lose

AN illustration of the way interference with a free-price economy begets confusion is found in a hatchery advertisement for spring chicks.

The message in the advertisement is directed at prospective customers for chicks. It advises them not to underestimate the poultry business because a certain number of laying hens will produce more income than a tenth as many hogs. This is because the income from the hens is guaranteed by the federal support price for eggs. Therefore, it is possible to produce more eggs in 1950. Many a business must envy the egg hatcheries a sales argument like that.

If it were not for the support price for eggs, the normal tendency would be to go easy on increases in egg production; the government already has millions of pounds of dried eggs and shell eggs on hand that it can't give away. There would be a slump in egg prices if the prices were controlled directly by supply and demand. The slump would correct itself eventually by a decrease in the production of eggs.

But as it is, a guaranteed price for a commodity already in a state of surplus will provide an incentive to add still further to the egg surplus. And why not? It is profitable to produce more eggs than can be put on the market without driving down the price, because the government is committed to a policy of keeping up the price by buying enough surplus eggs to keep the price from falling.

Baruch On Peace-Waging

BERNARD M. BARUCH never lacks an attentive audience when he speaks. He always says something worth listening to. He said something worth listening to when he told the Naval War College in Newport that the United States is staggering from crisis to crisis with the initiative left to the enemy and needs of a general staff for peace headed by a man of the stature of General Marshall.

Mr. Baruch is proposing a super-government to be erected on the existing government. The head of the super-government would perform a function not now being performed by the head of the existing government. He would give the country leadership in its efforts to keep the world from fumbling into another war.

This is a dangerous kind of imaginizing on the part of Mr. Baruch or anyone else. It suggests pointedly that the United States, having lost confidence in its existing government, needs to look somewhere else for leadership. Though it is conceivable that a man like Gen. Marshall might be able to supply leadership without pre-empting the Constitutional authority of the legal government, it is also conceivable that someone else might be tempted to set aside the authority of the legal government.

If the United States lacks adequate leadership it must find or create the leadership it needs within the already established pattern of constitutional government.

Distributing The Money

IN his written recommendations for creating greater military security, Gen. Eisenhower follows up his recent testimony before the Senate Appropriations Committee with specific recommendations.

These deal with the defense of Alaska, the strengthening of the Air Force's fighting groups and development of Navy equipment for anti-submarine warfare. They are accompanied, significantly, by the suggestion that the cost—between $300,000,000 and $500,000,000—does not necessarily have to be a net increase in the $14-billion-dollar defense budget. Some of this, Gen. Eisenhower suggests, could be saved out of the over-all budget.

That reveals what the real argument's about. And it offsets the first impression that Gen. Eisenhower is the spokesman for a group seeking a larger over-all appropriation for the Department of National Defense. He is representing a group dissatisfied with the distribution of the money being asked for in the budget.

As it happens, his recommendations cover all three branches of the armed services—more army defense for Alaska, more planes for the Air Force, more special equipment for the Navy. And if Gen. Eisenhower were to point to places where money could be saved, he might point point to all three services too. It cannot be argued that in a military budget of 14 billion dollars there are not enormous possibilities of saving money. Gen. Eisenhower hasn't fallen into that trap. He has confined himself to the real issue in military appropriations—who gets how much for what purposes.

Discipline For Democracy

DR. CLYDE HISSONG, Ohio director of education, has taken notice of a series of public school strikes with a statement that hits the mark. He blames lack of discipline in the home for such demonstrations. "The parents seem to have relinquished their authority and their responsibilities to the children," he declares.

Dr. Hissong points out that the operation of schools is one of the functions of representative democracy. The schools are operated by school boards on the principle of delegated authority. Once granted, the authority should be upheld. If it doesn't deserve to be upheld, it should be withdrawn at the next election. There is no other way to run a representative democracy.

Any parent who lets a school child override parental and school discipline by going out on strike has flunked a test of parental responsibility. Any parent who encourages a school child to behave like an anarchist in relation to the discipline that is the key to representative democracy has flunked a test of citizenship. Granted, however, that some children acted impetuously and probably felt the parental rod afterwards.

There is no excuse for and there is no place for strikes in the public school system.

Spring Madness

THE SEASON of airy madness is upon us. It is the time to find a home on the loam and begin a begonia.

With bulb and seed the spring gardener goes forth to sow the good earth in his backyard, and he comes in at eventide, racked by his own growing pains and covered with topsoil.

And to save my life this is one class of citizen I cannot understand. I have a dim appreciation of why people become birdwatchers, and my soul knows a sense of sympathy for horseplayers butterfly collectors and that strange kind of fauna that gets up before dawn to prowls beaches in search of the better seashell.

Their passion for these strange pursuits I don't share, but at least I can sense what makes them what they are. But the spring gardener—there's an odd one beyond my crass comprehension.

What primordial urge each spring sends him out to duel the landscape, convinced that this year he can conquer crabgrass, gladden the heart of a gladiolus and grow a five-pound strawberry? Why does he want to anyway?

All I can see he does is annoy the balance of nature. There he stalks, this man without a hoe, using hormone shots to germinate that don't want them, ambushing innocent potato bugs with deadly spray guns and interfering with the home life of robins.

Yes sir, from the minute the spring gardener sticks his big green thumb into the backyard there's no rest for bird, bug, tree or plant until snow flies.

By Autumn he will total up his victories and find he has raised about $25 worth of vegetables. To do this he will have spent about $500 in fancy tools—he needs more equipment than a paratrooper battalion—$50 in doctor bills, sunburn lotions and liniment, and about $100 in labor. This is figuring his time at a nickel an hour, which may be more than it is worth.

All this wouldn't be so bad if these frustrated farmers would stay in their own back yards. But they bring their small triumphs and major disasters—a pea plant that dodged, a rose that blighted—into the office. All they'll talk about is whether they should have banked the azaleas with peat moss and lime, or just good old-fashioned hyper humus, whatever that is.

They prattle endlessly on the proposed merits of the outdoor life, the fine exercise they get, and how much better they sleep at nights. I guess that's hyper humus, too. Anyway, I don't want any of it.

By Hal Boyle

All I want to do with the good earth in the wonderful season of spring is to wander around it or lie upon it and read a poem or listen to the birds call. I don't hate the worm, and if a bug doesn't bite me I won't DDT him. Nor do I have any desire to hurry the grass—or curvy it either.

And I think it would be a fine thing if all spring gardeners at this magic time would either go climb a rhododendron or quit bragging and grow something really impressive—say a redwood tree.

THE EASTER STORY

The climactic hours of Jesus' ministry began on Palm Sunday, when He entered Jerusalem, hailed by the multitudes. And when He came into Jerusalem, the whole city was moved, saying: Who is this? And the people said: This is Jesus, the prophet, from Nazareth of Galilee. (Matt. 21:10, 11)

Stirring Up The Red Paint Again

Vandenberg Leaving Big Gap To Fill

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON—SEN. ARTHUR H. VANDENBERG'S recent proposal for a nonpartisan commission to study foreign policy points up how sorely missed in the Senate these days is the voice of the Republicans' leading foreign affairs spokesman. Not only his party but the whole country is the loser.

Presumably ill health will compel Vandenberg to keep to the sidelines most of the time from now until his term expires in 1952. He does not intend to run again.

There's no doubt Vandenberg is the man who made the bipartisan foreign policy a working formula in Congress. That service has been of inestimable value to the nation at a time in history when the United States needed to show a united front to a world plagued by communism.

Vandenberg was uniquely fitted for this role. He dedicated himself in recent years almost entirely to foreign issues. As a specialist he gained stature in the eyes of both parties. His remarks took on added weight because he was not constantly embroiled in the daily verbal brawling on domestic questions.

STRANGELY, too, his influence seemed the greater because he was an isolationist before he was an internationalist. His colleagues felt in him something of the fervor of the convert. His dramatic shift, made in response to the realities of atomic and guided missile warfare, was the real beginning of his leadership in the Senate.

Within the Senate Republican group there developed a sort of division of labor, Vandenberg carrying the burden in the foreign field and Senator Taft piloting domestic policy.

Though many of his colleagues didn't go the whole way toward sharing his internationalist views, the Michigan senator often was eloquent enough to persuade them to follow him on key matters like the Marshall Plan and the foreign arms aid program.

Up to now no other Senate Republican has showed similar power to command the support of his party colleagues for a broadly internationalist foreign program. The internationalists in both parties, who constitute an overwhelming majority in the Senate, are regretful that no one is yet rising to take Vandenberg's place.

Hopes had once been pinned on Sen. John Foster Dulles, veteran of many an international party, but his defeat in New York last fall dashed them.

Some talk of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts as a likely successor, but thus far he has not made great strides toward establishing himself as a foreign affairs leader.

It will be unfortunate if strong new leadership does not emerge to fill the gap Vandenberg is leaving. For the United States has not yet won the cold war. It still has great need of presenting to Europe and the rest of the world a single, determined front.

No Legalisms

By TRUMAN TWILL

TODAY'S 2-cents' worth starts with a most unusual statement by a most unusual man—Capt. William D. Brown of the U. S. Navy.

"I am not concerned with the legal technicalities of my position," he told a navy court-martial preparing to pass judgment on him for running the battleship Missouri aground. "I only recognize that I was responsible for the safe navigation of the ship. My orders put the ship aground. I very much regret the harm that has been done to others by the grounding of the ship."

It is proposed herewith that a monument to Capt. Brown be erected on the grounds of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis to commemorate the kind of courage required to face the music. And it is proposed herewith that similar monuments might be erected on public grounds throughout the United States if some others follow in his footsteps.

There should be a monument to the first citizen of this great and noble society of free men who admits when he gets into a serious traffic mess that he made a damned fool of himself, hasn't a leg to stand on, is willing to pay the penalty for not knowing how to operate his vehicle and apologizes to the victims of his mistake. It should consist of a bust in bronze against a background of wrecked auto parts.

There should be a monument to the first litigant who waves aside the specialist in legalisms, faces the court and says, "Your honor, it would be possible for me to tie up this court in knots with objections sustained and objections overruled, but I prefer to skip all that and take whatever punishment is coming to me for making a mistake which would still be a mistake if we haggled over it for a thousand years."

There should be a monument to the first citizen who turns down a legalistic plan to confuse the issue and says in a loud, clear voice "This fiddle-faddle over what I did or didn't do has gone far enough. I admit I acted like a heel. I was responsible for the damage. I'm sorry."

There should be a monument to the first politician who gets up on his hind legs and says in a moderate tone of voice: "Folks, I flubbed one the other day and am not going to try to pass the buck to anyone. I cost you a lot of money that you can't spare. I was played for a sap by a lot of double-talkers. At this point I'm fresh out of double-talk myself and throw myself on your mercy at the next election."

It isn't likely any of these monuments will be erected. It takes an honest man to admit an honest mistake. And the kind of people who fall back on legalisms to confuse the issue are the kind of people who haven't anything else to fall back on. That's why there should be a monument, and no mistake about it, in recognition of Capt. Brown. He isn't the first fellow who ever muffed a big assignment for the U. S. Navy, but he is one of the few who set a distinguished example by facing the music with his chin up.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

THE polls are away off again . . . one now reports that most people don't know the difference between Democrats and Republicans.

If they don't, how come so many Democrats get elected and so many Republicans don't?

Some will agree that you can't tell Democrats and Republicans apart . . . some will agree that you can't tell 'em anything.

The GOP chairman says his party members should start pushing doorbells if they hope to get back in power . . . it might not elect them but it would show they still have some strength left.

But what should a Republican do when a housewife comes to the door and says "we have a vacuum cleaner" . . . tell her he has the vacuum for it?

Actually there is too much emphasis on party . . . party is not important these days if you're a Democrat.

'Point IV'

By PETER EDSON

It Might Help U. S. Investors

IN FINAL ANALYSIS, the test of the Point IV program of technical assistance to underdeveloped countries is whether it is "good business" for the United States. Here are two examples of how Point IV-type projects have worked out in the past:

A Civil Aeronautics Administration training mission of Turkey brought in orders for $8,000,000 worth of airport equipment. A Geological Survey mission for Brazil resulted in setting up two U. S. steel companies in new manganese mining projects.

Experiences of this kind give many internationally-minded do-gooders an opening to speak their piece. They say it is necessary for the United States to promote the development of backward countries which don't have the necessary capital and technical skills, for the good of U. S. business.

One argument is that the United States now has many surpluses which the American people alone cannot absorb. The U. S. therefore needs new markets. So it must raise the living standards in the underdeveloped countries to provide more customers.

A further argument has to do with U. S. unemployment. To maintain full employment, the United States must provide an outlet for more American-made machine tools, automobiles, farm machinery, sewing machines, radios or what have you.

FROM ANOTHER angle, it is pointed out that the United States must soon develop new sources for scarce metals and raw materials. The United States should buy these materials in the underdeveloped countries so as to permit them to earn the dollars to buy what this country has to sell them.

It can be proved easily that as American purchases of oil from Venezuela, rubber from Indonesia, tin from Bolivia, wool from Australia or coffee from Brazil have been stepped up, these countries have bought more from the U. S. So, in a selfish way, the Point IV program is being touted as good sales promotion, good advertising, good market development expenditures for new trade territories.

The big question is how to achieve this desirable end? Until 1900, the United States was itself something of an underdeveloped country. It got plenty of help from abroad. Most of the New England textile mills were built by British capital and technicians. European capital invested heavily to build U. S. railroads. Prior to World War I, some 20,000 American students went abroad every year to learn European technical skills.

The educational trend is now reversing. The rest of the world sends its best students to American schools for technical training. But there is still no great yen on the part of American capital to invest in new enterprises in underdeveloped countries. Out of $40,000,000,000 of U. S. capital invested last year, only half a billion went to foreign countries. There are several reasons:

A LOT of investors got burned in loans to Latin-America after World War I. Others sustained physical losses of property in World War II. Since then, American investors in China and the Balkans have been taken to the cleaners. The fear of socialist nationalization haunts every would-be foreign investor. And the pattern of government-to-government grants has made borrowing countries reluctant to sign notes on a tough banking basis.

What all this points up to is that the development of backward areas must depend largely on the tapping of private savings. One estimate is that at least 85 per cent of the cost of any development will have to come from local funds. Latin-Americans, for instance, will have to be persuaded to invest in mines and factories instead of putting their money into real estate booms or playing the commodity markets, with a hope of making 30 per cent profits.

There is no vast scheme for U. S. government loans to the underdeveloped countries. The so-called World Bank is expected to make many development loans. It has its scouts in many backward countries. But the promotion of new projects developed under Point IV is that they will be financed largely by private capital.

U. S. foreign investments are now over $12,000,000,000. Canada and Latin-America each account for a third, Europe a sixth. In all the rest of the underdeveloped world, less than $2,000,000,000.

Health To You

Pimples Or Acne In Adolescence

FEW things cause so much worry and distress to growing youngsters as adolescent pimples or acne. This skin disease comes at a time when boys and girls are terribly sensitive about their personal appearance. Friends, particularly those of the opposite sex, are becoming more and more important and the presence of pimples adds to the difficulty of growing from childhood into adult life.

Only a small proportion of those afflicted with acne develop permanent scarring but the fear is always present. Not only is there the usually unnecessary fear of permanent scarring of the face, but the pimples themselves produce an excessive shyness and self-consciousness. Some develop a permanent inferiority complex as a result of acne.

Acne prefers the face, neck, upper part of the chest and shoulders. The pimple usually starts as a reddish lump which is slightly tender to touch. It often develops into a "white head," which actually consists of a mixture of pus, germs, skin oil, and destroyed tissue cells. The pimple may be near the surface of the skin or quite deep.

In the milder cases, the pimples are spaced rather widely apart and are near the surface. In more severe cases they are closer together, break out more frequently and burrow deeper.

A special effort should be made to overcome the self-consciousness caused by pimples. Every boy and girl should force himself or herself to take part in social functions and ignore any remarks which might be made.

On the other side family and friends should be careful not to make remarks about the appearance of the acne. Commenting every day on whether the pimples are better or worse, even if done with the best of intentions, can only exaggerate the self-consciousness.

In addition to seeking proper advice and following it, the condition should be ignored so far as going to, or staying away from, social events is concerned.

BIBLE QUOTATION

For if ye shall diligently keep all these commandments which I command you, to do them, to love the Lord your God, to walk in all his ways, and to cleave unto him. —Deuteronomy 11:22.

Drawn by John J. Sunley

Fearing to attack Jesus directly, His enemies met in the court of Caiaphas, the high priest, to plan how to entrap Him. Just then the disciple Judas Iscariot entered. And said to them: What will you give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they covenanted with him for thirty pieces of silver. (Matt. 26:14, 15)

In the Beginning, Triumph

Jesus cast out the money-changers from the temple and miraculously healed the blind and lame. The envious priests and Pharisees were enraged. And seeking to lay hands on him, they feared the multitudes: because they held him as a prophet. (Matt. 21:45, 46)

Romania Under Communist Control, Salem Man Declares

Serafin Buta, former Salem man, has arrived home after a year spent as a member of the American legation in Bucharest, Romania.

He was a member of the same legation as the late Capt. Eugene Karp, naval attaché, whose recent murder stirred much speculation.

Mr. Buta is visiting his brothers, George, Nick and John, and sisters, Mary Simion and Helen Copacia. He also is spending some time with his mother, Mrs. Suzanna Buta Ghishoiu of S. Ellsworth ave., while his wife, Mary, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Opritza of Youngstown.

In Bucharest, Mr. Buta worked in the legation as a part of the United States Information Service, dispensing knowledge through documentary films and references on America and promoting good will between the countries with the help of American publications and recordings. This program has been curtailed since he left Bucharest on Feb. 26.

Due to the Karp incident, they were glad to safely reach Paris. They sailed from LaHavre on the the America.

The Soviet-controlled orbit, of which Bucharest is a part, is exerting more and more pressure on America, England, France and Italy, all of which have had cultural information centers in Romania, he said. These countries are gradually being given the freeze treatment, he added.

Romania is completely government-controlled, which means practically a communist setup. An individual is just a part of the state, Buta said, and does not pass on individual worth alone, but on agency (government) approval, he points out.

Mr. Buta went on to say food and clothing are rationed, housing and employment are controlled by an agency, and all industries are nationalized.

The only bright spot in the picture, Buta said, is the fact that the people may listen to their radios to hear the Voice of America programs and other unbiased information beamed by the other free countries. Newspapers are under government control.

Buta and his wife are recovering from a virus illness but soon will leave for Washington where he will work for the State Department. He expects to be assigned to the Voice of America broadcasts project in New York City, work similar to his recent duties in Bucharest.

Citrus Fruits Add Easter Color

THE fresh colors of lemons and oranges give delicate tints to Easter desserts. Their fragrance, too, belongs in the springtime menu.

Sunshine Cheese Pie

Three 3-oz. packages cream cheese, 2 tablespoons butter, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 whole egg, 2 tablespoons flour, 2/3 cup warm milk, 1/4 cup fresh lemon juice, 2 tablespoons grated lemon peel.

Cream the butter and cheese; add sugar and whole egg. Mix well and add flour alternately with milk. Stir in lemon juice and peel. Pour into unbaked graham cracker (8-inch) pie shell. Bake 45 to 50 minutes in moderate oven at 350 degrees F. Cool. Add 2 tablespoons sugar to 1/2 cup sour cream; pour over top of pie and bake at 400 degrees F. for 5 minutes. Chill and serve.

Graham Cracker Crust

One and one-quarter cups graham crackers (about 12 crackers), 1-3 cup sugar, 1-3 cup melted butter.

Blend ingredients together and press on bottom and sides of an 8-inch pie plate. Chill until set; add filling and bake.

Florida Ambrosia Chiffon Pie (8 servings)

One envelope unflavored gelatin, 1 1/2 cups orange juice, 2/3 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 4 eggs, separated, 1/2 cup shredded coconut, 1 orange, sectioned.

Soften gelatin in 1/2 cup of the orange juice. Put remaining 1 cup orange juice, 1-3 cup of the sugar and salt in top of double boiler and bring to a boil over direct heat. Beat egg yolks until blended; stir in hot orange juice gradually. Return to double boiler and cook over hot, but not boiling water until thickened, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat; add softened gelatin and stir until dissolved. Chill until mixture is slightly thicker than the consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Beat egg whites very stiff; beat in remaining 1-3 cup sugar. Fold in gelatin mixture; fold in whipped cream. Turn into baked pastry shell; sprinkle with coconut. Chill. To serve, garnish with orange sections.

Secrest Irked Over Imports

Cites U. S. Aid To Canadian Industry

WASHINGTON, April 3—(AP)

—Rep. Secrest (D-Ohio) said today he is moving to get industry and labor unions together in a drive to put a brake on the importation of foreign goods.

Secrest told a reporter he is inviting them to pick a steering committee to work with him on the project.

His goal, he said, is a law to raise the nation's barriers.

The Ohioan told the house a little about it in a speech last week attacking the foreign aid program. He contends the Marshall plan is providing machinery with which cheap-labor foreign countries can produce goods at price American producers can't match.

Secrest said conversations are under way with spokesmen for labor unions, industrial groups and a variety of individual industries.

"We're building up steam for the next session of Congress," Secrest said, "and I think we can get a bill through then."

Secrest is exploring a complaint by the Reynolds Metals Co. which has plants in several states, against United States aid to the Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd., and its subsidiaries.

Reynolds, which has appealed to the tariff commission, told Secrest in a letter he made public that U. S. aid made the Canadian firm "the lowest-cost aluminum producer in the world" and gives it unfair advantages over domestic producers.

"Reynolds says that our government put up $68,500,000 to help the Canadian company develop, and that the money was practically a gift," Secrest said. "It also loaned the Canadian company another $38,000,000."

"On top of that, we have cut in half the duty on Canadian aluminum imported into this country, and ordered that over $70,000,000 of all aluminum bought for the Marshall plan countries must come from the Canadian industry. That's about 99 per cent of all the aluminum they buy."

"In my judgment, the American industry has a good, loud squawk coming to it—and some fast re-assert, too."

Secrest, who often has clashed with Democratic party policy, contends "I'm not talking like a Republican or anything else. I'm talking like a man who can face a fact, and understand what it means."

Ebright Hits Lausche Highway Program

COLUMBUS, April 3—(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche "is out of step with the times and the highway needs of our state," Don H. Ebright, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor said today.

Ebright said in a prepared statement:

"If there is one thing we need to keep up with the other states all around us, it is an immediate improvement in our policies of highway maintenance and upkeep."

"Yet this is the time when our governor has chosen to order an immediate halt in the one big project the state has undertaken in recent years—the Ohio Turnpike."

Ebright added: "We ought to be speeding plans for this turnpike, but the governor chooses to conduct a delaying action that will set back the start of this highway six months."

Congressman Hays On Veterans Committee

The Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives, which is also the patronage committee, yesterday appointed Congressman Wayne L. Hays of the 18th district to membership on the important Veterans Affairs Committee, which handles all veterans' legislation.

In making this appointment the Committee on Committees broke three precedents of the House. Hays is the only first term out of more than 100 with two committee assignments, having been on the Committee on House Administration and holding that assignment in addition to the new one. He is also the second Democratic member of the important committee from Ohio, the other being Congressman Walter Huber of Akron.

Elephants' Illness
Plagues Beatty.

LOS ANGELES, April 3—(AP)—A mysterious malady has taken the life of one elephant at the Clyde Beatty circus and has made two more sick.

It is the latest in a series of elephant misfortunes for the famed wild animal trainer. Twenty-three year old Marian died Saturday and several weeks ago 40-year-old Mary died.

Two weeks ago two elephants frightened by a train whistle, broke loose in Pomona, Calif., and rampaged through the town for 90 minutes, causing considerable damage and injuring a handler.

Veterinarians are working on the two sick elephants. Beatty said only that a "mysterious malady" had struck them. The circus has six, including the sick elephants, and has ordered three more.

Lutheran Church, and Rev. Richard C. Swogger, pastor of the Methodist Church.

Mrs. J. D. Bush of Akron sang two solos. She is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. George Beers. Rev. Beers is a former pastor of the church. Mrs. Hammell, organist, accompanied Mrs. Bush, and also was accompanist for Mrs. M. P. Livingston, who played a violin solo.

Rev. Hunter, who presided, introduced Dr. Morris, guest speaker. Giving a forceful talk on "The Responsibility of Church Membership," Dr. Morris defined a good church member as one who prays, pays, plods and perseveres.

Church History Traced

The Baptist congregation traces its history back to 1809, three years after the first settlers established themselves on territory which later became the city of Salem. The first small church was built of logs on S. Ellsworth ave. By Nov. 23, 1820, the church had 40 members and a small brick building was erected on the same location.

On Oct. 19, 1867, a lot was purchased at the corner of E. Main st., and Lincoln ave., now E. State st., and S. Lincoln ave., and a brick church was erected at a cost of $10,000, without the pipe organ or bell.

In 1879, Sarah Tift bequeathed a fine bell to the church. Her name was cast on the bell, and also this inscription, "Let Him That Heareth Say Come." This bell was still in use when the church was burned. However, the bell was saved and repaired and placed in the new church tower.

In 1891, the Wirsching Organ Co. of Salem installed a pipe organ in the church, for which the Ladies' Benevolent Society assumed the financial responsibility.

Organ Is Gift

Organ for the new church is a gift from Mrs. Harry W. Young and son, Eugene, as a memorial to Mr. Young, member of the official board for more than 40 years. He died in 1947.

The organ console is styled in blonde wood which matches the finish of the main sanctuary pews, and also matches the blonde finish acrosonic spinet piano, which is placed opposite the organ console. The piano is a gift of James and Emelyn Hayden in memory of Frank and Mina Hanson, Mrs. Hayden's father and mother.

After the fire in the old church, the congregation held some of its services in the Presbyterian and Christian churches, the Salem High School auditorium and the Memorial building. Ground for the new building was broken Sunday, Aug. 15, 1948, and the first service was held in it Sunday, June 26, 1949.

Rev. Hunter, who with officers and committees assumed the burden of the building project, began his work at this church in August, 1945. He was called here from the Memorial Baptist

Bob Feller Pounded Hard By Chicago Cubs In Exhibition

Washed Up Yarn Common Again

Fireballer Says He's Taking It Easy Now

EL PASO, Tex., April 3—(AP)—It happened in 1948 and in '49, too, so it won't surprise Rapid Robert Feller if he hears and reads again in the next few weeks that he's "all washed up."

It won't surprise the Cleveland Indians' one-time boy wonder pitcher, and it won't hurt him as much as it did before. But Feller is a proud and sensitive athlete, and it will hurt a little.

This is the big righthander's 12th season hurling for the Tribe. His fireball doesn't give off sparks anymore, and a touch of silver shows in the hair near his temples. He will be 32 this year.

Feller did his first exhibition-game hurling of the season against major league batters yesterday. The batters—Chicago Cubs—lambasted him for 12 runs and 14 hits in six innings.

HF STRUCK out two, walked five and served up home run pitches to Catcher Mickey Owen and Second Baseman Wayne Terwilliger. The Indians barely managed to win the game, 13-12, on a four-run rally in the ninth.

Does it mean anything? Not much, for Feller obviously was taking it easy, as he said he intended to do during the training season. And it was his first mound duty since March 20, because a virus infection had him sidelined.

The 1948 season was the first full campaign in six that Feller failed to win 20 or more games. He won 19 after a poor beginning.

Arm trouble was his handicap, and he blamed it on over-exercising his flipper in a night-game exhibition in Hollywood when he hurled seven innings against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Then last year Feller pulled his right shoulder muscle in the first week of training while practicing a pick-off play and re-injured the sore muscles in a practice tilt at San Francisco. He got another bad start last season and ended up with 15 won, 14 lost.

"TWO YEARS in a row I hurt my arm in spring training," said Bob. "I'm going to make sure it doesn't happen again."

His first exhibition outing March 15 against the Oakland Oaks of the Pacific Coast League was Feller's only impressive showing of the month-old training season. After allowing three runs and three hits in the opening frame, he held the minor leaguers hitless for three innings.

Five days later he hurled a poor four innings against the Los Angeles Angels of the PCL and allowed four runs on five hits, one of them a homer.

Feller says he's in better shape this year than he's been since 1947, and he's confident he will win 20 or more. He admits he's "not throwing as fast as I was 15 years ago," but hastens to add that he still throws "as fast as any other man in the league."

The Cleveland baseball writers are making guarded prophecies that prospects of a Feller comeback in 1950 are good. Former Tribe President Bill Veech thinks he may win as many as 24.

There's really not much grounds for guessing until Bob has made at least four or five starts in the American League pennant race.

Julian To Wrestle Lord Blears Here

The "great" Lord Blears, monocolled heavyweight wrestler from Manchester, England, has been signed to meet Salem's Frank "Toar" Julian in the feature bout of an attractive wrestling card at the Memorial building on April 19.

Blears' dignified entrances, monocol, swallow-tail coat and stiff collars may be the objects of scorn to other wrestlers, but they have earned him a lot of public attention. He'll be outweighed by Julian 235 to 208.

The main go is slated for two out of three falls. Featured in one fall matches are Fred Bozic of Cleveland and Bobby Ford of Youngstown, along with Jack Vansky of Kearney, N. J., and Pierre LaBelle of Canada, and a tag team match.

SOME STUFF—Listed on the Kansas City roster, and a 20-game winner with Binghamton of the Class A Eastern League, Ed Ford has shown so much stuff that Casey Stengel is planning to add the rookie pitcher to the Yankee staff.

Tribe Escapes Tucson Heat; Really Too Hot

EL PASO, Tex., April 3—(AP)—Cleveland's Indians hoped today to find cooler temperatures here than in their training base at Tucson, Ariz.

It's hard to believe, but the club actually found the weather too hot there during the last few days. It was 92 Friday and 90 both Saturday and yesterday.

Golf Pros Ask For Recognition

Dislike Prize Lists Set Up For Next Year

CHICAGO, April 3—(AP)—Attempts will be made in a PGA parlay today to get the nation's headline golfers off the warpath and back contentedly on the tournament trail.

The players' battle cry being carried to PGA officials by representative George Schneider is "return tourney golf to the tourney player."

The top-drawer pros want to conduct their own legislation under a separate division within the PGA structure. They demand that such a setup be written into the organization's constitution.

Schneider, the PGA tournament bureau manager and playing pro from Utah, is firmly supported as spokesman in the uprising against legislative power of PGA delegates by such stars as Sam Snead, Ben Hogan, Jimmy Demaret, Lloyd Mangrum, Cary Middlecoff, Clayton Heafner, Johnny Palmer, Bob Hamilton, Toney Penna, Jimmy Thomson and Lawson Little.

Under the new plan, these players make up a board of governors for execution of tournament business, including the negotiating and signing of agreements and control of the tournament bureau fund.

SCHNEIDER SAID legislative control now rests mainly with country club pros with playing pros being frozen out.

"These delegates, without maliciousness and with the sincere thought they were doing a good thing, have overstretched the distribution of tournament prize money," said Schneider in explaining one of the main issues.

"They have passed legislation, for example, that would require a payoff next year for 40 places in a $15,000 tournament instead of 25. Payoff positions are higher or lower according to the purse of each tourney."

"In a $15,000 meet, that would mean the winner would get $1,900 instead of $2,600, and that the runner-up would get $1,500 or $1,600 instead of $2,000."

Schneider said the leading pros—the crowd attractions—could make more money playing exhibitions under this prize structure.

Walter Hagen was the first American-born winner of the PGA championship in 1921 and dominated the play through 1927, winning also in 1924, 1925, 1926 and 1927.

TOLEDO, O., April 3—(AP)—Walter Ward of Cleveland was a double winner in the 46th annual Ohio State Bowling Tournament which ended Sunday at Toledo, winning singles and all-events titles.

His earlier efforts gave him the winning 733 points in singles and 2,093 in all-events.

Steve Nagy of Cleveland rolled a 300-game in his first try for the singles championship but ended up with 693 and third place. But he placed second in all-events, with 1,982.

Jack Galchick of Salem took fifth place in the all-events (actual pins) division.

John Canelli of Toledo was elected president of the Ohio State Bowling Association at the end of the tournament. Carl Copp of Dayton was named vice president.

The 1951 tournament will be held in Ashtabula next March 3.

Jack Onslow Picks Sox To Finish In Fourth

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — The Chicago White Sox will finish in fourth place in 1950, says Manager Jack Onslow.

"I pick the Boston Red Sox to win the pennant," he said. "They will have the pitching, and good pitching. The Yankees will be the team to mean they will finish in third place."

The White Sox finished in sixth place last year.

ANDY SEMINICK, Philadelphia Phillies catcher, is tagged out at third base by Washington Senators Eddie Yost as he attempted to advance from second base on Richie Ashburn's ground ball to the pitcher in 4th inning of game at Clearwater, Fla. Seminick doubled to deep center field to get on base.

Findlay's Bachman, Johnson Of Lowellville Top Coaches

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, O., April 3—(AP)—Ohio's No. 1 high school cage coach for 1949-50—that's Carl C. (Mums) Bachman of Findlay.

The tall tutor of the terrific Trojans won the laurels today by vote of his fellow coaches in a state-wide poll by the Associated Press. In being designated "top" among the state's 1,130 head coaches, Bachman amassed more than half the hundreds of votes cast.

A 13-letter athlete at Bowling Green State University, Bachman first hit the headlines in 1921 when he booted 19 extra points in a 151-0 football rout of Findlay College. He was a varsity man in football, basketball, baseball, track and tennis.

After a nine-year coaching career scattered over Bessemer, Pa., Glouster and Perrysburg, Bachman started his 16-year regime at Findlay where his teams won 250 and lost 70. Bachman's 1944, 1948 and 1950 quintets were unbeaten in regular season play, and his 1948 squad grabbed the state Class A title.

The Findlay mentor helped organize the Ohio High School Basketball Coaches Association, and served as its president during its first two years.

BACK OF Bachman in the "best coach" list for the recent campaign were: Warren Scholler, Hamilton Public; Paul Walker, Middletown; (tied) Elwood Pitzer, Springfield, and Bill Rohr, Portsmouth; Jim McCarthy, Cincinnati; Purcell; Bill Scopel, Cleveland; St. Ignatus; Charles Williams, Shelby; Max Douglas, Newark; Newt Oliver, Upper Sandusky; Wilson Weiss, Toledo; Woodward; Ralph Gartrell, New Philadelphia; Clarence McDonaugh, Franklin; George Simstad, Youngstown; Rayen; Angelo Vaccaro, Steubenville; Wally Ardner, Toledo; Macomber; Vern Hoffmann, Mansfield; Charles (Red) Ash, Canton South; Glen Furber, Dover; C. Gene Sarazen Raps Method Of Rating Pros On Earnings

By HARRY GRAYSON
AUGUSTA, Ga.—(NEA)—Professional golfers being ranked according to the amount of money won gripes Gene Sarazen.

"Until the pros went on tour, the stars were determined by the number of classics they won—the British, U. S. and Western Opens, the PGA and the Metropolitan Open," says the Little Roman who won every major tournament for which he was eligible.

"The Masters should now be included in that league."

"You now see players rated near the top who have won little more than the Phoenix Open."

The remarkable Sarazen, here for and a threat in the Augusta Masters, at 43 and in his 31st year of championship golf, also blasts Samuel Jackson Snead for criticizing British golf.

SNEAD said he would not again play in the British Open, says he won't this summer if added that he didn't like the courses and the manner of play on the other side.

"Had it not been for the British and Scots, Snead would now be running a gas station, or doing something like that, in the Virginia hills instead of making $75,000 a year playing golf," says Sarazen.

Asked to name the best golfer he ever saw, Sarazen gives you the composite player instead.

"He would have a Bobby Jones' head," he explains, "Lawson Little's shoulders, Byron Nelson's arms, Walter Hagen's heart, Ben Hogan's intestinal fortitude, Bobby Cruikshank's legs and Snead's rhythm."

SARAZEN SAYS that with Nelson and Hogan out of it, Snead is 10 strokes better than the remainder of the current professional playing field. He calls Jack Burke the slickest of the youngsters, and closest to Snead.

While Nelson and Hogan are to compete in the Masters, April 6-9, Snead, traveling at his present clip, has a tremendous bulge unless he throws a shoe, as he does occasionally.

Snead has never won the U. S. Open, however, and Sarazen says he won't this summer if Bobby Locke comes over for the big show at Philadelphia's Merion Golf Club, June 8-10.

"The Merion course is tailor made for Locke," he says. "It's a heavy course with fast greens, requires vastly more than brute strength."

SARAZEN WARMED UP for the Masters by firing a 69 and a 70 over Palm Beach's Seminole. He plays only in pet tournaments now, but won't bow out of major competition while he can break 70.

Never without a good story, Sarazen tells about being Lord Halifax's dinner guest at the British Embassy in Washington in the summer of 1945.

"What are you doing here?" the ambassador wanted to know. "I'm on my way to the PGA," replied Sarazen.

"What department of the government is that?" asked Lord Halifax.

Old Guard Leads N. C. Golf Field

WILMINGTON, N. C., April 3—(AP)—Golf's gold guard is still to be reckoned with as the youngsters learned yesterday.

Two of the old hands, fortyish E. J. (Dutch) Harrison and George Fazio, a couple of years away from the mark at which life reportedly begins, ran one-two in the second annual Wilmington Azalea Open tournament.

Harrison, playing out of St. Andrews, Ill., shook off Fazio, from Washington, on the last nine holes to post a winning 71 for 280. That was eight strokes under par and two ahead of Fazio.

Harrison's rounds of 68-72-69-71 gave him $2,000 top money in this $10,000 test over Cape Fear Country Club's 6,652 yards.

Fazio, second to Cary Middlecoff at Jacksonville two weeks ago, picked up $1,400.

Middlecoff, National Open champ from Ormond Beach, Fla., dropped a seven-foot putt on the last hole for 72 and a third place tie at 283 with Joe Kirkwood Jr., Hollywood, Calif. Each won $900.

The World Series of 1923 between the Yankees and the Giants was the first in which the winner's share per player topped $6,000.

Training Camp Briefs

TAMPA, Fla., April 3—(AP)—Tommy Byrne, erratic lefthander of the New York Yankees, has given notice he is looking forward to his best season. Byrne, 30, came to the Yankees in 1943, but it was not until last season that he "found" himself, winning 15 of his 22 decisions. He hurled seven scoreless innings yesterday against the St. Louis Cardinals.

MOBILE, Ala., April 3—(AP)—If you want to play with the Brooklyn Dodgers, get plenty of sleep.

Burt Shotton, the Dodgers' manager, has cited clean living as a vital factor in winning a job with his club.

"If two players are of equal ability, I'm going to take the one that goes to bed earliest," Shotton said. "More pennants have been lost through dissipating, anything else."

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 3—(AP)—Al Brazle and Max Lanier, who have pitched less than any St. Louis Cardinal hurlers this spring, are scheduled to work today against the Boston Red Sox.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., April 3—(AP)—Barney McCoskey, who sat out the 1949 season with a lame back, will make his first 1950 start for the Philadelphia Athletics against the Washington Senators at Orlando on Saturday.

LAKELAND, Fla., April 3—(AP)—Slow to start, the Detroit Tigers' mound staff has shown some fine improvement lately. In the last four games, Bengal hurlers gave up only seven runs and 27 hits. Yesterday Ted Gray and Paul (Dizzy) Trout gave the Boston Red Sox just seven hits and set the Sox down, 6 to 3.

Aussie-Jap Duel Awaited

John Marshall Shines In AAU Meet At Yale

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 3—(AP)—The next Olympic games won't be held until 1952, but swim experts already are buzzing with anticipation. They're looking ahead to a series of middle distance races between Australia's John Marshall and Japan's Hironoshin Furuhashi.

On the say so of Bob Kiputh, famed Yale and Olympic team coach, Marshall and Furuhashi, the current sensations of the swimming world, "positively won't race each other until the 1952 Olympics at Helsinki."

Marshall, the Yale freshman who turned the 46th National A. A. U. swimming championships into a personal triumph over the week-end, and Furuhashi are to meet face to face soon when the Japanese swimming team comes here after a South American tour.

"But," insists Kiputh, "I doubt whether they'll even be in the pool at the same time."

That's too bad! Mike Peppe, noted Ohio State coach, echoed the sentiments of scores of other experts when he said he would go anywhere to see a race between the pair of swimming greats.

Based on their latest exploits, Marshall and Furuhashi are about even, although the sleek Australian package of swimming dynamite modestly says the Jap "is still the best swimmer in the world until someone proves otherwise."

MARSHALL, who has been swimming only four years, scored three firsts, setting three A.A.U. meet records and bettering four world standards in the A.A.U. event.

His brilliance outshone everything else in the meet, even the impressive diving "double" scored by Ohio State's Bruce Harlan.

Champs crowned during the three-day competition were Marshall—1500 meters, 220 and 440 yard freestyle; Harlan, low and high board dives; Clarke Scholes, Michigan State, 100-yard freestyle; Allen Stack, New Haven Swim Club, 150-yard backstroke; Bob Brawner, Princeton, 220-yard breaststroke; Joe Verdeur, Brighton Swim Club, 300-yard individual medley; New Haven Swim Club, 440-yard freestyle and 300-yard medley relays.

The leading teams scores: Yale Freshmen, 43; Ohio State, 35; New Haven Swim Club, 32; Brighton Swim Club, 27; Michigan State, 13; Chicago Town Club, 11; University of Iowa, 9; University of Texas, 8; Princeton, 6; University of North Carolina, 5.

Questions and Answers

Q—In what manner does a bird hold on to a limb or branch?

A—The common way is with the first toe behind and the other toes ahead. Some birds have a different custom. Woodpeckers, for example, keep the first and fourth toes behind, and the second and third ahead.

Columbiana Memorial Group Winds Up Affairs

COLUMBIANA, April 3—The Columbiana War Memorial Association, which placed the granite memorial in the cemetery, dedicated last Decoration day, has wound up its affairs. A balance of $9.73 was turned over to Firestone American Legion Post to go toward a fund for the care and maintenance of the memorial. The committee requests that a war memorial commission of three, one each from the Legion, the V.F.W. and the cemetery board, be constituted to look after maintenance of the memorial. Cost of the memorial was $4,639.24.

At The Theaters

"Sands of Iwo Jima" follows the lives of a group of Marines, their dreams and their women through training camp to the bloody battles of Tarawa and Iwo Jima. John Wayne and John Agar star in the courageous epic at the State today and Tuesday.

In "Too Late for Tears" at the State Theater Wednesday and Thursday, Elizabeth Scott portrays a greedy woman who drives to destruction all the men who are attracted into her brilliant orbit.

The second feature on the double bill is a horse race story, "Blue Grass of Kentucky," with Bill Williams and Jane Nigh as the romancers with a friendly rivalry between them about the Kentucky Derby winner.

Friday and Saturday at the State, "Dakota Lil" deals with the lawless element of the Wyoming badlands and with the role played by the U. S. Secret Service in making the area a fit place to live. George Montgomery, Rod Cameron and Marie Windsor are the stars.

"Young Daniel Boone" at the Grand tonight is the tale of the scout and his successful efforts at rescuing a small party captured by the Indians first, then by the French. David Bruce plays the title role.

The other picture stars Desi Arnaz and Mary Hatcher in "Holiday in Havana," which relates how a bus-boy finds romance while becoming a rumba band leader and composer.

At the Grand Friday and Saturday Charles Starrett and Smiley Burnette struggle with an outlaw gang engaged in waylaying government gold. The western in entitled "Frontier Outpost."

The prison warden ruled a thousand dangerous thugs, but his wife took orders from a convict. This is the basis for the plot of "Prison Warden," the second hit. Chapter 14 of the serial, "The Adventures of Sir Galahad," also will be shown.

Folks soon will be tramping all over the ground picking violets and buttercups. No wonder the spring wildflowers are wild.

Liquor Agents Strike 2 Private Clubs

COLUMBUS, April 3—(AP)—State Liquor department agents and local officials struck in Lima and Cincinnati during the weekend, seizing slot machines and liquor.

At Lima, the state agents raided the Elks club and the William Paul Gallagher American Legion Post 96. The two clubs are located opposite each other and District Enforcement Officer John Kocevar said there were about 2,000 persons in the places when the raids were staged.

Eleven slot machines were found at the Elks Club and nine at the American Legion.

Kocevar said his men had made "buys" of liquor at both clubs although neither has a state liquor permit.

At Cincinnati, county police and state agents staged an early morning raid yesterday at a place in the Price Hill neighborhood. Sheriff Dan Tehan of Hamilton county said there were about 60 persons in the establishment when the officers swooped in at 4 a. m. and seized two slot machines, whiskey and beer.

The place, described as a former garage, was raided about a month ago. Hamilton County Prosecutor Carson Hoy said William Martin, the operator, would be ordered before the grand jury.

PATROLMAN KILLED

CLEVELAND, April 3—(AP)—Eugene Edwards, 30, was shot and killed by Patrolman John H. Smith in a street fight here yesterday. The patrolman said the man attacked him after their shoulder: brushed in passing on the sidewalk.

WANTED

More trade-ins from the lowest-priced field, to round out our used car stocks!

ONE OF THE FIRST requirements for successful operation, in our used car department, is a complete selection of makes and models.

Right now, we have the year's finest selection of trade-ins from the Packard price class.

And—now that small-car owners are learning the facts about Packard's long-lasting economy—we're getting more of those small-car trade-ins than we ever got before!

But we need still more of those trade-ins from the lowest-priced field to bring our stocks up to the right level for high-volume spring selling!

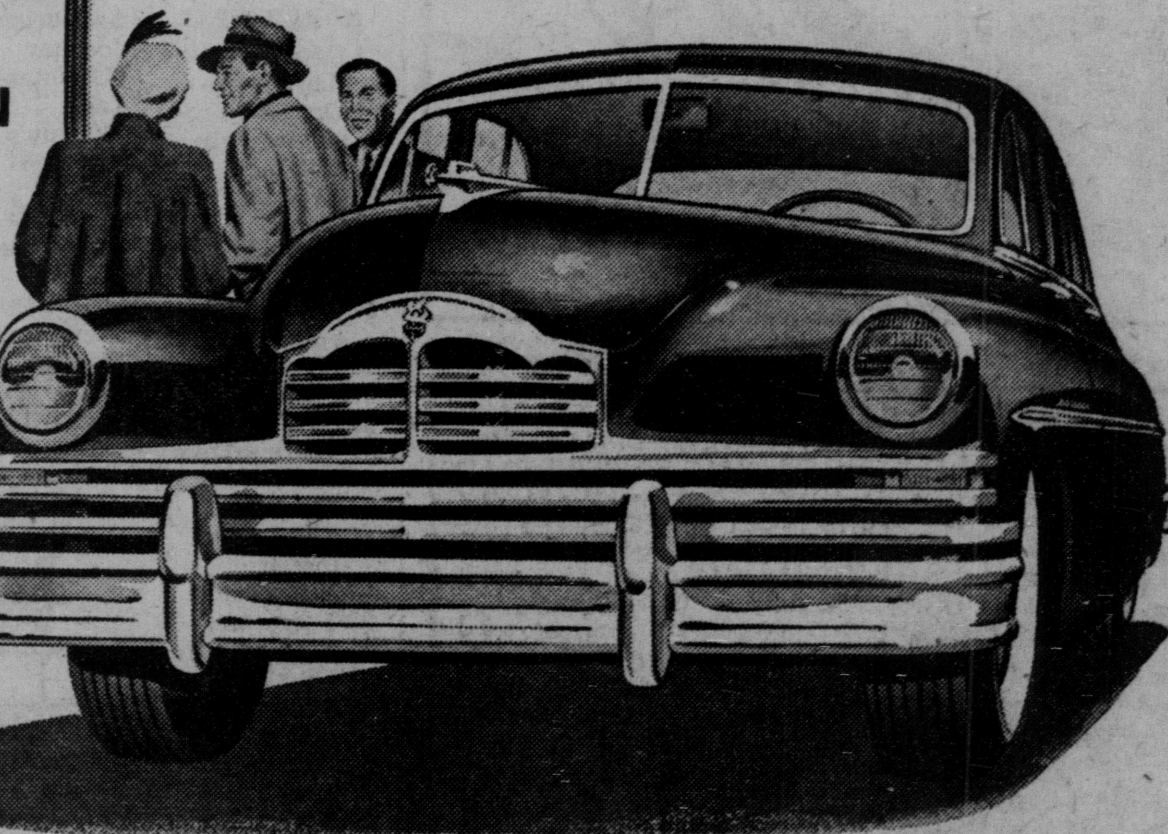

And our appraisals will show you we really mean business! Drive in tomorrow and let us show you how much your car is worth to us!

The more you shop around, the better this looks!

ONLY $769.⁵⁰ DOWN

for a new 1950 Packard Eight—135-HP, 6-passenger Club Sedan. (White sidewalls optional at extra cost.) Very likely, your present car will more than cover the low down payment!

And the price includes: Fore-and-aft direction signals, fender shields, electric clock and cigarette lighter, automatic trunk and courtesy lights... many other extras.
